CSULB School Psychology Program

The CSULB School Psychology program is approved by the National Association of School Psychologists (NASP) and accredited by the Commission on Teacher Credentialing (CTC). Candidates completing this program are employed in P-12 educational settings and provide direct and indirect psychological and academic support to students. The Educational Specialist degree (Ed.S.) is based on 60 units of course work (plus 6-units of prerequisites), and includes 4-units of practicum and 6-units of fieldwork/internship. Candidates in the Ed.S. in School Psychology program concurrently fulfill requirements for the Pupil Personnel Services (PPS) Credential in School Psychology. The PPS in School Psychology is required by the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing (CTC) for persons employed in public schools as a School Psychologist. In addition to satisfactorily completing coursework and field experiences while maintaining a 3.0 GPA, candidates are expected to demonstrate personal competencies and professional work characteristics necessary for a successful and effective career in education (see CSULB School Psychology Personal Competencies Review form in the Appendix) that are aligned with NASP Standards and CTC Performance Expectations. A culminating activity (e.g., thesis or comprehensive exam) is required, as well as satisfactory completion of the Internship Portfolio. Finally, all candidates are required to take the National School Psychology Examination (Praxis) prior to completion of the program. Please note the terms candidate, graduate student, and student are used throughout the handbook, depending on the context, to represent graduate students enrolled in the CSULB School Psychology program.

Program requirements are designed to align with the NASP Professional Standards (2020).

Training Philosophy
The CSULB School Psychology program is based on an ecological theoretical perspective (Brofenbrenner, 1979). By promoting an ecological model, candidates learn to understand that student achievement and behavioral difficulties result from a discrepancy between the developing capabilities of the student and the multiple demands of his/her environment (Ogbu, 1981; Sroufe, 1979). Accordingly, candidates are well-versed in the varied conditions of risk and sources of resilience that impact child development, with a particular emphasis on changeable, rather than static conditions (Wang, Haertal, & Walberg, 1993). For example, beginning at the center of an ecological system with the child, the program teaches future school psychologists to assess a student's prior learning, cognitive, social, emotional, and behavioral skills to make recommendations for accommodations, interventions, and services (Gresham, & Noell, 1999; Kamphaus, Reschly, 1997; Reynolds, & Imperato-McCammon, 1999). Additionally, the program prepares future school psychologists to assist in developing personal competencies such as confidence, perseverance, conflict resolution, and organization for students at-risk of school failure (Bernard, 2000).

An ecological model does not solely focus on the learner. Recognizing that learning is a transactional process in which the learner is affected and affects the learning environment and the learning process, the program emphasizes the proximal and distal environmental influences of the family, home-school relationship, peers, neighborhoods, and communities, world of work, public policies, and culture. For example, degree of home-school collaboration is related to student academic competence, self-concept, behavior, attendance, academic engagement, and suspension rates (Christenson, Rounds, Gorney, 1992; Comer, 1984). CSULB candidates receive extensive preparation in consulting and collaborating with parents and teachers on modifying the learning environment so that the effectiveness of both parents and teachers is maximized (Gutkin & Curtis, 1999; Zins & Erchul, 1995). Recognizing that teacher preparation and competency is as influential on student outcomes as home environment and student characteristics (Darling-Hammond, 1997), the program teaches future school psychologists to identify and promote best practices in instruction and curriculum for all students, including those with exceptional needs. (Gersten & Baker, 2000; Rosenshine, 1997; Swanson, 2000).

School psychologists are often called on during times of crises. Therefore, our program trains candidates to respond to crises according to best practices (Poland, Pitcher & Lazarus, 1995), and more importantly, to be actively involved in crisis prevention programs (Domitrovich & Greenberg, 2000; Meyers & Nastasi, 1999). Training in crisis prevention and intervention is based on the theoretical tenets described above – increasing personal competency and resiliency among students, forging strong school/home/community partnerships, and preparing teachers to respond to student need. Additionally, candidates are taught within a scientist-practitioner model to apply evidence-based practices, current legal mandates, and established standards of ethical practice (e.g., AERA, APA, NASP) in making decisions about assessment, intervention, and prevention for students with and without disabilities. In summary, the program relies on a variety of knowledge bases to prepare candidates for the ever changing role of the school psychologist.

Program Goals
The following goals are based on our training philosophy and support the Vision and Mission Statement of the College of Education (CED). The school psychology program is designed to:

Goal 1:
Provide excellent instruction in all areas related to the practice of school psychology.

Goal 2:
Advance the knowledge base in school psychology through candidate research, and the research and writing of faculty.

Goal 3
Develop in school psychology candidates a sense of the necessity for life-long independent study as well as an appreciation of the value of collaborative interactions.

Goal 4
Serve the needs of the community by training school psychology candidates to provide professional services to diverse students, schools, and the community.

Goal 5
Prepare school psychology candidates to meet all entry-level and continuing education standards for credentialing and licensure appropriate to their future work settings.

Program Learning Outcomes
The program is designed to foster the following program learning (candidate) outcomes based on NASP domains of practice (2020); overall program outcomes are a CTC requirement.

Outcome 1:
Understand and utilize practices that permeate all aspects of service delivery including data-based decision-making, consultation, and collaboration.

Outcome 2:
Provide student-level services for academics and mental and behavioral health.

Outcome 3:
Provide systems-level services to promote learning, safe and supportive schools, and collaboration across family, school, and community.

Outcome 4:
Demonstrate consideration of foundational concepts of service delivery, including equity, diversity, evidence base, ethical principles, and legal guidelines.

NASP Domains of Practice (2020)
More specifically, the following domains guide course design, fieldwork experiences, and assessment of candidate learning outcomes. Please see the Appendix for an illustration of how coursework maps onto the NASP domains of practice ("Matrix of Courses by NASP Domain").

1. Data-Based Decision Making: School psychologists have knowledge of and utilize varied methods of assessment and data collection methods for identifying strengths and needs, developing effective interventions, services, and programs, and measuring progress and outcomes within a multi-tiered system of supports.

2. Consultation and Collaboration: School psychologists have knowledge of varied methods of consultation, collaboration, and communication applicable to individuals, families, groups, and systems as well as methods to promote effective implementation of services.

3. Academic Interventions and Instructional Supports: School psychologists understand the biological, cultural, and social influences on academic skills; human learning, cognitive, and developmental processes; and evidence-based curricula and instructional strategies.

4. Mental and Behavioral Health Services and Interventions: School psychologists understand the biological, cultural, developmental, and social influences on mental and behavioral health; behavioral and emotional impacts on learning and life skills; and evidence-based strategies to promote social–emotional functioning.

5. School-Wide Practices to Promote Learning: School psychologists understand school and systems' structure, organization, and theory; general and special education programming; implementation science; and evidence-based school practices that promote learning, positive behavior, and mental health.

6. Services to Promote Safe and Supportive Schools: School psychologists understand principles and research related to social-emotional well-being, resilience and risk factors in learning, mental and behavioral health, services in schools and communities to support multi-tiered prevention and health promotion, and evidence-based strategies for creating safe and supportive schools.

7. Family-School Collaboration Services: School psychologists understand principles and research related to family systems, strengths, needs, and cultures; evidence-based strategies to support positive family influences on children's learning and mental health; and strategies to develop collaboration between families and schools.

8. Equitable Practices for Diverse Student Populations: School psychologists have knowledge and inherent respect for individual differences, abilities, disabilities, and other diverse characteristics and the effects they have on development and learning. They also understand principles and research related to diversity in children, families, schools, and communities, including factors related to child development, religion, culture and cultural identity, race, sexual orientation, gender identity and expression, socioeconomic status and other variables.

9. Research and Evidence-Based Practice: School psychologists have knowledge of research design, statistics, measurement, and varied data collection and analysis techniques sufficient for understanding research, interpreting data, and evaluating programs in applied settings.

10. Legal, Ethical, and Professional Practice: School psychologists have knowledge of the history and foundations of school psychology; multiple service models and methods; ethical, legal, and professional standards; and other factors related to professional identity and effective practice as school psychologists.

In Table 2 below is the recommended course sequence for the Ed.S. program. Please note that many courses have prerequisites; if candidates deviate from this schedule and do not complete a required prerequisite, they will likely not be able to take the next course in a sequence. Also note that most courses listed below are not offered every semester, with most courses offered once per year. Additionally, courses are scheduled to not conflict with other courses typically taken that year and semester in the program (i.e., first-year courses are scheduled to not conflict with other first-year courses, etc.). Candidates planning to complete a first-year recommended course in their second year may experience a course conflict in their second year.

Register and confirm your class schedule at www.MyCSULB.edu. Do not wait to register. Classes with low enrollment will be cancelled. You must be admitted as a graduate student to the University prior to registering for courses. Once the University has admitted you, you will receive information on registering via MyCSULB.edu. Please be advised that candidates may not choose the Credit/No Credit grading option for required program coursework. Some coursework (e.g., EDP 301, 302, 405) may be taken, if it is offered, in the summer. During spring semester of the first year, candidates will be assigned by the program coordinator to enroll in a specific section of EDP 536 and EDP 517 to balance the class size of these courses. Additionally, candidates are not guaranteed choice of instructor for multi-section courses offered during the same semester; the program coordinator might ask candidates to move sections if balancing enrollment is necessary after registration.

Waiving Coursework
Candidates may waive courses based on prior coursework that is equivalent. However, the following courses cannot be waived:
- EDP 527 Advanced assessment for intervention
- EDP 528 Introduction to school psychology
- EDP 560 Functional behavioral assessment and positive behavioral support
- EDP 579 Curriculum-based academic assessments and interventions
- EDP 536 Collaborative consultation in the schools
- EDP 641A/B School psychology practicum
- EDP 642A/B School psychology fieldwork/internship
- EDP 643 Systematic approaches to interventions in schools

To determine which courses you might petition for equivalency, review the official University catalogue description of the course you think may meet our requirement and compare it to the CSULB official catalogue description. If the description is similar, the class may be waivable[1]. Please note that program faculty do not typically have the decision power to decide whether a course is equivalent. The College of Education (CED) requires candidates to follow the procedure described below for course waiver considerations. In consultation with your advisor, you may submit a Petition for Course Equivalency to the Graduate Studies Office (GSO). The course equivalent must be upper-division- this is 300 level or higher at CSULB. Please find detailed instructions and a portal to submit petitions on the GSO website. Be prepared to include the following as attachments:
1. Copy of transcript that has the course on it (this can be unofficial copy or a copy of an official transcript)
2. Transcript key
3. Course description, syllabus recommended (could be from a course catalog and/or a syllabus.
4. Submit documents to the Graduate Studies Office (EED-7 or ced-gradstudies@csulb.edu) for consideration. The documents will be routed to the instructor who teaches the class who will determine if the course you took previously meets the objectives of our classes.
5. The Graduate Studies Office will notify you by email of the outcome and will provide a copy of approved petitions to the Credential Center.

In addition to any equivalent coursework, candidates with a masters' degree in a related program may waive[1] the 9-unit emphasis with approval from their advisor. The candidate and advisor may select up to 9 units of coursework from the master's degree to replace 9-units specialization coursework of the 60 units required to complete the PPS credential program. The candidates' Education Specialist degree would then be conferred based on the lower number of units earned in the CSULB School Psychology program (e.g., 51). Note, a minimum of 42 units must be completed in the CSULB School Psychology program.

In both cases, (coursework equivalency and/or masters' degree in related field) the course must have been completed no longer than 7 years prior to graduation from the school psychology program. If the courses were taken longer ago, the candidate must write a revalidation memo for each course describing how they stayed current in the content of the course. The memo is sent with an advisor's approval memo to the Graduate Studies Office (ced-gradstudies@csulb.edu) prior to filing advancement to candidacy.

[1] Note: the "waiver" is for the Ed.S., which would then be reduced by the number of units for the degree. The PPS still requires 60 units and can 'count' the course equivalencies.

Fieldwork Requirements
CTC and NASP require all school psychology candidates to demonstrate the application of knowledge and skills in relevant settings and under appropriate supervision, evaluation, and support. Our program integrates fieldwork throughout the entire course of study to build skill acquisition, fluency, and generalization. First year coursework builds foundational skills and candidates complete brief fieldwork experiences in P-12 schools and work in our Community Clinic for Counseling and Educational Services as assignment requirements. Second year coursework is focused on the application of skills in our Community Clinic and a formal practicum fieldwork experience (EDP 641A/B) in P-12 schools. Finally, third year coursework focuses on advanced consultation skills and candidates complete their internship/culminating field experience through a primary placement in P-12 schools (EDP 642A/B).

The following general requirements apply to all fieldwork experiences.

1. Proof of Basic Skills Proficiency: California Education Code and Title V Regulations specify that applicants for a credential to serve in public schools must verify basic skills proficiency before the credential will be issued. Options for satisfying basic skills requirement include passing the CBEST or CSU Early Assessment Program or the CSU Placement Examinations, achieve a qualifying score on the SAT or ACT or College Board Advanced Placement (AP) Examination. Please find detailed information here.

2. Certificate of Clearance: Candidates must obtain a Certificate of Clearance from CTC prior to beginning any school-based activities, including practica, fieldwork/internship, and coursework activities. Because some first-year, fall courses include school observations and interviews, new candidates should obtain their Certificate of Clearance the summer before their fall semester begins. Failing to report prior convictions, even if they have been expunged, will likely result in a delay or even possible denial of your application. You will be required to show proof of filing for a Certificate of Clearance prior to engaging in any activities in a school setting. Please find detailed information regarding applying for a certificate of clearance here.

3. School-based Supervision: field-based supervisors are professionals who possess the background, training and credentials appropriate to the fieldwork experience and have at least three years of school psychological experience in the setting and specific site in which they are supervising the school psychology practicum student or intern.

4. University Supervision: candidates meet bi-weekly as a group with their University supervisor (i.e., instructor of EDP 641A/B, EDP 642A/B) for supervision and complete specific assignments at their fieldwork site(s) to meet the NASP standards for training and practice. In addition, candidates keep weekly logs of their activities and reflections, and submit these (signed by their site supervisor) to their University supervisor.

5. Securing Fieldwork Placements: although program faculty are required to approve all fieldwork experiences prior to candidates accruing hours, candidates are required to find their own fieldwork placement. Previous candidate evaluations of practica and internship supervisors are located in the Clinician Room across from the Community Clinic in a locked file drawer. Candidates seeking practica or intern placements may ask the Graduate Assistant or Clinic Coordinator for access to review the evaluations. In addition, the School Psychology Student Association (SPSA) hosts a Friday afternoon meeting in February-March for districts who are interested in securing practica students and/or interns the following fall. This is a great opportunity for candidates to meet with potential fieldwork supervisors and obtain information regarding unique training experiences and attendance is strongly encouraged.

6. Expected Activities: practica students and interns are expected to engage in an array of activities based on the NASP Practice Model with a range of populations based on age, race, ethnicity, linguistic proficiency, socioeconomic status, gender identity, and ability. Specific course requirements are included in course syllabi.

7. Multiple Settings: The four basic field experience settings for school psychologists include (a) preschool, (b) elementary, (c) middle school or junior high, and (d) high school. It is expected that candidates will complete a total of 450 clock hours of practica and 1,200 clock hours of internship/culminating field experience. Although candidates are encouraged to obtain diverse field experiences, it is recognized that many candidates will accrue most of their 1,650 clock hours of field experience in one primary setting. It is expected that candidates will complete field experiences in three (3) of these four (4) settings. A total of 200 hours is required for the second and third field experience settings when combining all practica and field experiences.

8. The School Psychology Program includes face-to-face contact for its entire duration. Candidates are expected to complete their fieldwork and internship experience at approved sites for which CSULB has affiliation agreements that are located within the Los Angeles and Orange County areas. Candidates may contact the Office of Clinical Practice for a listing of approved fieldwork sites. Candidates who wish to complete fieldwork experiences outside of these two counties must complete and submit the College of Education petition for Out-of-Area Fieldwork by March 1st. Please see the Appendix for the official policy statement.

9. Fieldwork hours completed as a non-district employee must only occur during CSULB's fall and spring semesters since student liability insurance coverage is limited to this timeframe. Candidates should communicate these dates to their site supervisors before beginning fieldwork hours.

Practicum Requirements
Candidates must complete a practicum experience under the supervision of a credentialed and experienced (3 years) school psychologist. Candidates are required by CTC and NASP to complete a minimum of 450 practica hours prior to beginning internship/culminating field experience. At least 100 practica hours must be in a school setting that includes at least 50% ethnically, culturally, racially, economically, and/or linguistically diverse students.

CSULB school psychology candidates complete 111 practica hours in our Community Clinic for Counseling and Educational Services setting (EDP 524B, 524C, 579, 527, 517) and 343 hours in P-12 school settings supervised by university faculty and site supervisors (EDP 641A & B, 405, 528, 560, 517, 536) for a total of 454 practica hours. Candidates are required to keep a log of all EDP 641A/B activities and the number of hours completed each semester. Most of the hours needed to satisfy EDP 641 A/B may be completed 1-1.5 days per week, including time spent off-site preparing. Candidates who are training on one of the OSEP grants can count grant hours accrued toward the 150 hours per semester. Please note: most school psychology training programs do not offer extensive training in a clinic; therefore, it is not uncommon for practica students in other programs to commit to 2 or more days per week at a practica site. Our expectation is that candidates commit to only 1-1.5 days per week and attend additional days only if necessary to make-up hours or attend a special event (e.g., IEP meeting, staff meeting, etc.) The second year of the program is very busy and candidates who commit to 2 days per week of practica may struggle to meet all program requirements.

Practica policy and courses that include the completion of practica hours are summarized below in Table 3.

Table 3. Summary of Practica Hours and Activities

With the exception of EDP 641A and EDP 641B, the instructor of each course listed above primarily provides supervision of practica activities. Candidate performance is evaluated through the completion of school-based and clinic-related course requirements aligned with the NASP Domains of Practice (2020). University instructors ensure that candidates meet course objectives by examining candidate work (permanent products), watching candidates' recorded performance via video recordings, and observing via the Community Clinic for Counseling and Educational Services. In addition to program faculty, a field-based school psychologist supervises candidates completing the Practicum courses (ED P 641A & B) and completes an evaluation of the candidate at least once per semester; see the Appendix Field Supervisor Evaluation of Practica Student.

Three hundred practica hours are met by completing EDP 641A & B for two units each. Candidates who concurrently work in public schools may complete the first 150 hours of EDP 641A while working at their school site, engaged in school psychology-related activities under the supervision of their site school psychologist. The remaining 150 hours must be completed in a formalized practicum wherein the candidate commits considerable time to learning the profession from an experienced school psychologist. These 150 hours cannot be completed in the school in which the candidate has worked or is currently working. To ensure that this placement provides sufficient consistency to allow the candidate to manage cases, run counseling groups, etc. the contiguous placement must include:
- A minimum of one full day (~8 hours) and a maximum of 5 full days per week.
- A minimum of 10 weeks and a maximum of 1 year.
- No more than two sites or two supervisors.

Additional activities that enhance candidates' practica experiences but are not required include, but are not limited to:
- Provide direct academic intervention(s) to a student or group of students
- Co-facilitate a parent education group
- Participate in your school's SST, grade-level meetings, and/or retention/promotion meetings
- Provide staff development trainings on class-wide behavior management, academic interventions, special education referral policy, etc.
- Draft a paper for submission and publication to CASP Today or the Communiqué, a paper or poster presentation proposal to CASP (California Association of School Psychologists) and/or NASP (National Association of School Psychologists) annual conventions.

Documentation and evaluation of each of the above required (and enhancing) activities and assignments will be maintained by candidates and their University supervisor (e.g., EDP 641A/B instructor). School-site supervisors also will evaluate practica candidates based on the NASP Domains for Training and Practice at least once per semester for EDP 641A/B. Candidates who do not show evidence of successful completion of required practica activities and/or experiences, or who do not demonstrate professional and personal competencies as outlined in the CSULB School Psychology Personal Competencies Evaluation (see below for more information), may be required to complete additional practica hours, repeat a semester of practica, and/or may not be recommended for internship.

Internship/Culminating Field Experience
The school psychology program, CTC, and NASP require candidates to complete a minimum of 1200 hours of internship to demonstrate competency as a candidate for the PPS School Psychology Credential. A detailed description of internship/culminating field experience requirements is in the Internship Handbook and is shared with candidates during their second year in the program.

A brief overview is provided below.

At least 1000 hours are to be accrued providing direct and indirect services to students in a school setting (P-12) and remaining hours may be acquired in another setting such as a private school, community agency serving school-age children and youth, or engagement in relevant research and evaluation experiences. The CSULB School Psychology program requires that at least 600 hours be accrued in a school setting that includes at least 50% ethnically, culturally, racially, economically, and/or linguistically diverse students. Candidates who do not show evidence of successful completion of the internship based on University and/or fieldwork supervisor observations, completion of course and program requirements, and/or evaluations of professional and personal competencies may be asked to complete additional hours, repeat a semester of fieldwork, or may not be recommended for the PPS Credential. A summary of hours is provided in Table 4.

Internship Portfolio
As a graduate student in the NASP-approved CSULB School Psychology program, interns are required to complete and submit an Internship Portfolio at the conclusion of their internship experience. The Portfolio includes work samples completed at the internship site(s) that meet specific criteria outlined by the School Psychology faculty and NASP standards for training and practice. The Portfolio serves as an opportunity for faculty to review, analyze, and aggregate culminating candidate data for program improvement while also providing graduate students structured feedback on the attainment of skills critical to effective practice in the schools. Please see the Internship Handbook for details.

Personal Competencies
Candidates must demonstrate specific professional and personal competencies to ensure school psychology candidates possess the knowledge, skills, and dispositions required for successful careers as school psychologists. CTC- and NASP-approved programs are required to assess professional work characteristics as part of both practica and internship experiences to "ensure that interns attain the competencies and demonstrate the professional work characteristics needed for effective practice as early career, independent school psychologists" (NASP Training Standard 4.3).

Program faculty meet each month and a designated time is devoted to discussing candidate issues or concerns. At that time, faculty consider whether an evaluation of a candidate's competencies is warranted. If a candidate competency evaluation is warranted, the candidate will be immediately notified and requested to meet with the program coordinator and/or faculty, and their advisor. Personal competencies are also part of fieldwork evaluations completed by site supervisors. This is a parallel to the Professional Conduct Referral Process outlined in the College of Education's Student Professional Conduct Policy and procedures.

Please see Appendix for a copy of the CSULB School Psychology Personal Competencies Evaluation. If a candidate is rated a '2' (minimal) or lower in any area, or receives a total score of 24 or less (minimal or unsatisfactory), an intervention plan and timeline for remediation will be developed. Please see Appendix for CSULB School Psychology Candidate Intervention Plan. Please be advised that candidates who fail two or more times to achieve satisfactory ratings on a personal competency review, despite the development, agreement, and implementation of a Candidate Intervention Plan, may not be recommended for internship and/or the PPS School Psychology credential.

Faculty Advising

All candidates are required to meet with their advisor in the spring or summer prior to beginning the program in fall. In this meeting a 2- to 3-year schedule of courses will be drafted (see Jonquil Advisement Form in the Appendix). Every November, all candidates receive an email from the program director regarding fall mandatory advising. Candidates are required to provide any requested information or changes to their Jonquil Advisement Form to their advisor before the Thanksgiving holiday. Advisors will review the information, which details the candidate's plan for courses, practicum, and fieldwork/internship, and address any candidate questions or concerns. Advisors will respond to the candidate via email if there are any concerns or questions that need addressing and may request a synchronous meeting with the candidate. Candidates may request a synchronous meeting with their advisor at any time. Advisors are available to meet during scheduled office hours or by appointment. Please see Jonquil Advisement Form in the Appendix.

COLLEGE AND UNIVERSITY REQUIREMENTS
The following is a summary of activities required of graduate students in the College of Education and California State University, Long Beach.

Advancement to Candidacy
All candidates must file for Advancement to Candidacy that represents the formulation of an official program of study for a master's degree in the College of Education. It is the process that establishes candidates' catalog rights and forms the basis of your degree audit when you are ready to graduate. While there is no specific deadline to advance to candidacy, it is important to advance to candidacy as soon as possible and in accordance with advisor recommendations. Prior to having advanced to candidacy, graduate students are subject to any new CSULB Catalog requirements that may go into effect while enrolled. Advancement to candidacy is a prerequisite to enrolling in thesis coursework (EDP 698) or applying for comprehensive exams, and must occur at least one semester prior to the semester in which you enroll in EDP 698 or complete comprehensive exams. Advancement is also required prior to applying for fieldwork/internship. Advisors will work with candidates to ensure their Jonquil Advisement Form is accurate and complete and submit it to the Graduate Studies Office as part of the documentation for the Advancement to Candidacy process.

Culminating Activity: Thesis or Comprehensive Exams
All candidates must complete a culminating degree activity of either thesis or comprehensive exam. The comprehensive exam includes a written, in-house exam (administered in early spring of the final program year) and a passing score on the National School Psychology Examination (Praxis), typically taken in late fall or spring of the last year in the program. Although all School Psychology candidates must take the National School Psychology Examination prior to completing the program, candidates who opt to take comprehensive exams must obtain a passing score on the exam, as well as pass the written, in-house exam to successfully meet the requirements of the culminating activity. A passing score on the National School Psychology Examination allows candidates to obtain certification as a Nationally Certified School Psychologist (NCSP). For additional information regarding the National School Psychology Examination, please go to http://www.ets.org/praxis/nasp/requirements. Candidates can take the Praxis on their own any time after the second year. Results are due to the Graduate Studies Office by May 1st (or December 1 for fall graduation) of the year they want to graduate. Candidates must submit a request to take comprehensive exams to the Graduate Studies Office by October 1st prior to sitting for the exam in spring. Applications and additional information regarding comprehensive exams may be found on the Graduate Studies Office linked here. The in-house comprehensive exam is typically held during the first week of the Spring semester with a re-take in late April.

The second option for completing the culminating activity is thesis, a written document of an independent research study. A thesis committee is formed by the candidate which includes a "Chair" (full-time, tenured or tenure-track CED faculty) and 2-3 "Readers," faculty members in the program, department, College or University. A third reader may be a member of the community with relevant knowledge and experience of the thesis topic. Candidates typically enroll in thesis units (EDP 698) in both fall and spring (3 units each; 6 units total) of their second year; however, solidifying a thesis topic and reviewing the literature should occur in the spring and summer prior to enrolling in thesis units. Please note that final approval of Chapters 1-3 by your Thesis Chair as well as data collection must be completed prior to going on internship. School Psychology candidates are required to attend College of Education Thesis and Project Seminars, which meets on Thursdays at 7 PM approximately twice a month for from April of their first year in the program until March of their second year in the program, including summer. Failure to attend the seminars will result in being discontinued from completing a thesis by your Thesis Chair.

Candidates must submit a thesis proposal to the program director by February 1ˢᵗ of their first-year. Program faculty will review proposals and collaborate to find thesis chairs. Proposal submission does not guarantee the availability of a faculty member to act as chair. Guidance on developing thesis proposals will be offered during fall of first year. A request to complete a thesis must be submitted to the Graduate Studies Office by March 1st prior to enrolling in thesis units (EDP 698) the following fall. Applications and additional information regarding thesis may be found on the website of the Graduate Studies Office. Completion and submission of the Praxis exam is a requirement for the degree; thus, thesis candidates must take the Praxis exam to be eligible to receive the Ed.S. however, they are not required to pass the exam to receive their degree and be recommended for the credential. However, a passing score on the Praxis is required for national certification.

District Affiliation Agreements
Due to the potential for injury to the candidate, as well as property damage and liability exposure for the University, an Affiliation Agreement must be in place at the district, community agency, or institution in which the candidate is completing a field experience. Prior to accruing field hours, an Affiliation Agreement must be in writing and specify minimum insurance requirements applicable to the contracting parties and include appropriate hold harmless provisions based upon the needs of the contracting parties.

Agreements are legally binding documents that commit the University and the district to explicit terms and conditions and thus, must be reviewed for legal requirements. Although most local districts have a current Affiliation Agreement with CSULB, smaller districts or those located on the edges of Los Angeles and Orange Country areas may not. Agreements typically require the written consent of a district's Board of Education as well as the University's Office of Risk Management; thus, it is imperative that candidates check with the Office of Clinical Practice prior to beginning their field experience.

Opening a File at the Credential Center
To be recommended to receive the PPS School Psychology Credential, candidates must open a file at the Credential Office. Opening a file should be completed before newly admitted candidates begin their first fall semester. Once a file is opened with the Credential Center, the Center periodically generates and sends to the candidates progress reports indicating course and other requirements that have been fulfilled, and those that need to be completed. All requirements for completion of the school psychology program (including approved course waivers, successful completion of thesis or comprehensive exams, Praxis exam results) must be received by the Credential Center before a candidate is recommended for the PPS Credential in School Psychology.

Graduate Writing Assessment Requirement (GWAR)
Graduate students who were (1) awarded an undergraduate or graduate degree from an accredited college or university in the United States; or (2) awarded an undergraduate or graduate degree from an accredited non-US institution located in a country where English is a primary language of communication; or (3) attained a score of 4 or higher on the analytical writing test of the GRE or GMAT are exempt from the GWAR Placement Exam (GPE). Enrollment Services will determine at the time of admission whether students are exempt from the GPE and will indicate their exempt status on the student's Test Score Summary in MyCSULB. Detailed information about the GWAR is linked here.

Important College and University Policies, Regulations, and Resources

College of Education Expectations for Professional Conduct
Professional conduct and ethical dispositions are expected of all CED students at all stages of program participation including: advising, coursework, clinical/field practice, and extra-curricular activities in face-to-face, hybrid and online/virtual learning environments.

A CED student is expected to:
1. Act to benefit all individuals and communities by promoting the physical and psychological safety of others. Do no harm.
2. Abide by the mission, policies, procedures, safety regulations, and standards of professionalism of partnering institutions (e.g., schools, clinics, colleges, community organizations) when engaged in clinical or field practice.
3. Demonstrate cultural competence and responsiveness in honoring and respecting multiple perspectives, identities, and lived experiences of others in diverse classroom and clinical settings.
4. Monitor professional integrity by engaging in self-reflective practice and acknowledging the consequences of one's own actions or inactions on others.
5. Maintain essential collegial behaviors and ethical obligations delineated in standards of professional practice by accrediting organizations and professional associations in one's field of practice, including but not limited to the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing and other associations noted in the appendices to this document.

CED students must adhere to CSULB's Rules and Regulations and student conduct codes enforced by the CSULB Office of Student Conduct & Ethical Development, as well as to college, department, and program policies. If deemed necessary, reports of discriminatory behaviors toward others based on age, culture, national origin, gender, ability, race, religion, or sexual orientation will be referred to the CSULB Office of Equity and Diversity. Observed forms of harassment in physical or digital form may require immediate referral to the CSULB Office of Student Conduct & Ethical Development. Claims of sexual harassment, discrimination, harassment, or retaliation will be reported immediately to the CSULB Office of Equity and Diversity.

Special Needs Accommodations

Students with disabilities who require reasonable academic accommodations are strongly encouraged to register with the Bob Murphy Access Center (BMAC) each semester. Students must submit supporting disability documentation to BMAC and provide faculty of any BMAC verification of accommodations as early in the semester as possible. BMAC is located in the Student Success Center, Room 110 and may also be reached by phone at (562) 985-5401 or via email at bmac@csulb.edu.

During this time of COVID-19, if you have any condition that prevents you from attending class in-person or wearing a face covering/mask, please contact BMAC at bmac@csulb.edu for reasonable accommodations

Sexual Assault, Rape, Dating/Domestic Violence and Stalking
Title IX prohibits gender discrimination, including sexual harassment and sexual misconduct. If you have experienced sexual harassment, sexual assault, rape, dating/domestic violence, or stalking, the campus confidential Victim's Advocate is available to help. Jaqueline Urtez (e: advocate@csulb.edu, p: (562) 985-2668) can provide free and confidential support, accommodations, and referrals for victims without having to report the assault to campus authorities. While students are welcome to discuss assaults with faculty, both faculty and teaching assistants are mandatory reporters who are required to report all incidents of sexual harassment/misconduct to the Title IX office for follow-up and possible investigation. Students who do wish to report the assault for possible investigation may contact the confidential victim's advocate, who can help them through the reporting process, or they can report the assault directly to the Title IX Office by completing an online reporting form at https://cm.maxient.com/reportingform.php?CSULongBeach&layout_id=100 or contacting the Office of Equity & Diversity at OED@csulb.edu.

Student Support Services

The Division of Student Affairs has prepared a helpful guide, Student Resources During COVID-19. A full list of student support services is also available on the Programs and Services website. All units and programs are offering services, primarily in a virtual format; visit individual websites for up-to-date contact information.

Students who are facing challenges resulting in housing and/or food insecurity are urged to contact the Basic Needs Program. Students may also email supportingstudents@csulb.edu or call (562)985-2038.

Additional Requirements
- To maintain your enrollment in the university and program, all candidates are required to take a minimum of one prerequisite or core program course per semester (excluding summer). Exceptions are made for medical or personal leave. Candidates requesting a leave must file a "leave of absence" with University Enrollment Services (BH-101) and notify their school psychology advisor and the program coordinator. Candidates who fail to file a leave of absence will be dropped from the University and the program and will need to re-apply if they plan to return to the program. Information regarding filing for a leave of absence may be found here.

- Candidates may complete the program on a full- or part-time basis. In accordance with University regulations governing Master's degree programs, the school psychology program must be completed within seven years of the date the candidate's program was initiated.
- All candidates must maintain a 3.0 GPA to remain in good standing in the program. Failure to do so may place the candidate on academic probation.

GENERAL INFORMATION
Knowledge of the following information will ensure your successful and timely completion of the CSULB Ed.S. degree and receipt of the PPS Credential in School Psychology.

Communication
Program announcements and requirements, job opportunities, professional development opportunities, and other communiqués throughout the year are sent via email by the program coordinator or student assistants. University policy recognizes email as an official form of communication; thus, most information is disseminated electronically and NOT through the U.S. mail. Candidates are responsible for checking their email regularly and informing the program coordinator regarding changes to their email address. Individual instructor course announcements and notifications are typically sent through BeachBoard and thus, are sent to the email address listed on MyCSULB. It is the candidate's responsibility to ensure that the contact information on MyCSULB is current. Candidates are eligible for, but are not required to have, a CSULB email account. In addition, it is important that the Graduate Studies Office (EE-7) and the Credential Office (EE-42) have your current email and mailing addresses. If you move, alert University Admissions, College of Education Graduate Studies Office, and the Credential Office.

CED Credential Center
The Credential Center, located in EED-42, evaluates and processes records for fulfillment of credential requirements and recommends candidates for the intern and/or full PPS School Psychology credentials to CTC.

CED Graduate Studies Office
Located in EED-7, the Graduate Studies Office assists prospective and current students with questions about graduate program applications and admissions, petition for course equivalencies, graduate culture initiative activities and events, advancement to candidacy, program changes, application for thesis or comprehensive examinations, application for fieldwork, maintaining continuous enrollment in the program through GS 700, applying for a leave of absence, and completing university graduation requirements and filing for graduation.

CSULB Graduate Studies Resource Center (GSRC)
The GSRC offers a wide array of information and resources for current and prospective graduate students. Located on the 5th floor of the library, the GRSC provide information regarding campus events, workshops, research opportunities, and funding.

The Writer's Resource Lab (WRL)
The WRL provides ongoing writing instruction to any currently enrolled CSULB student via one-on-one tutorials. As an integral part of writing-across-the-curriculum program at CSULB, the WRL exists to help students become more effective and independent writers. Information on scheduling an appointment can be found here.

Thesis and Dissertation Office
Located on the 5th floor of the Library, the Thesis and Dissertation Office helps students prepare manuscripts using proper University format guidelines and the style guide approved by individual departments.

Financial Aid and Scholarships Office
Information regarding on- and off-campus scholarships at CSULB. Information on Graduate Assistantships and Fellowships also are available.

Community Clinic for Counseling and Educational Services
Candidates provide assessment and intervention services to preschool, elementary, secondary, and post-secondary students in the Community Clinic as part of their coursework in the program. The CSULB Community Clinic is a training facility that includes 24 individual client rooms with one-way mirrored windows with speaker and headphone capability. Video recording and playback, and extensive assessment and intervention materials also are available. The school psychology program uses the clinic facilities for several courses: EDP 517, 524B, 524C, 527, and 579.

Nationally Certified School Psychologist (NCSP)
Candidates are encouraged to pursue the NCSP credential through NASP. This credential can facilitate obtaining licensure in other states, and some districts/states offer an additional stipend for school psychologists who hold the NCSP. Passing the Praxis exam is a requirement.

Memberships in Professional Associations
Joining the following professional organizations is highly recommended: National Association of School Psychologists (http://www.nasponline.org/); California Association of School Psychologists (http://www.casponline.org); Council for Exceptional Children (http://www.cec.sped.org), and American Educational Research Association (http://www.aera.net). Student memberships are very economical and it is never too early to begin to build your professional library. In addition, local associations such as the Greater Long Beach Association of School Psychologists (GLBASP) and the Orange County Association of School Psychologists (OCASP; http://ocasp.net/) provide candidates with useful local networking and leadership opportunities. Candidates are strongly encouraged to attend state and national conferences held by these and related professional organizations.

Waivers Incoming candidates should consult the program handbook on how to petition for course equivalencies and see additional notes below. Highlight any courses for which a revalidation memo is needed because it was completed 7 years prior to expected date of graduation.
Total number of units to complete the EdS program: Total units waived: Expected equivalency coursework:

To determine courses you might petition for equivalency, review the official University catalog description of the course you think may meet our requirement and compare it to the CSULB official 2022-23 catalog description.

If the description is similar, the class may be waivable[1]. Please note that program faculty do not typically have the decision power to decide whether a course is equivalent. The College of Education requires candidates to follow the procedure described below for course waiver considerations. In consultation with your advisor, you may submit a Petition for Course Equivalency to the Graduate Studies Office (GSO). The course equivalent must be upper-division- this is 300 level or higher at CSULB. Please follow all instructions on the GSO website here.

In addition to any equivalent coursework, candidates with a masters' degree in a related program may waive the 9-unit emphasis with approval from their advisor. The candidate and advisor may select up to 9 units of coursework from the master's degree to replace 9 units specialization coursework of the 60 units required to complete the PPS credential program. The candidates' Education Specialist degree would then be conferred based on the lower number of units earned in the CSULB School Psychology program (e.g., 51). Note, a minimum of 42 units must be completed in the CSULB School Psychology program.

Please note that several courses may not be waived. They are noted on the above Program Plan and are also listed in the School Psychology Program Handbook.

Graduate Programs Policy on Academic Integrity
Approved by the CED Graduate Programs Committee 4.8.15, Amended 5.3.17, 5.1.19 and 3.3.21

Students are encouraged to review closely Academic Senate Policy 21-01 on Academic Integrity Regarding Cheating and Plagiarism.

Guiding Principles
1. The College of Education recognizes that developing scholarly writing skills is an essential component of graduate education. The College offers resources and support throughout students' careers so that they may learn and practice proper attribution skills and develop as scholarly writers.
2. An essential element in having a positive graduate learning experience is taking seriously one's educational responsibilities and adhering to principles of academic integrity. As with other forms of academic misconduct, cheating, plagiarism and self-plagiarism are considered to be serious breaches of academic integrity and may have serious consequences for a student's course grade and/or progress toward the degree. Students who are found to be in violation of Academic Senate PS 21-01 and/or the College of Education Graduate Programs Policy on Academic Integrity may be dismissed from the program, particularly for multiple offenses and/or in the case of cheating, plagiarism or self-plagiarism on a doctoral qualifying paper or master's/doctoral culminating activity.

Overview of Cheating
Cheating is defined in PS 21-01 as "the act of obtaining, trying to obtain, or helping someone else to obtain academic credit for work by using dishonest, deceptive, or fraudulent means." For examples of cheating, consult PS 21-01.

Overview of Plagiarism
Plagiarism is defined in PS 21-01 as "the act of using the ideas or work of another person or persons as if they were one's own, without giving credit to the source." Plagiarism may occur unintentionally if a student is not careful while taking notes and/or appropriately citing sources in their work. Students must paraphrase, summarize, or acknowledge another's work using appropriate references and citations following American Psychological Association (APA) style, which is the most frequently used citation style in education.

Overview of Self-Plagiarism

Self-plagiarism is generally defined in PS 21-01 as "re-use of one's own work for multiple assignments within one or multiple courses, or presenting previous work in another context without citing it as one's own." According to PS 21-01, "It is recommended that faculty clearly indicate in their syllabi to what extent students may or may not re-use their own previously created work. In the absence of clear direction from the syllabus, students are advised to receive prior authorization from the instructor in any course before they re-use any portion of their own work."

In the College of Education, self-plagiarism may involve students submitting portions of their previously submitted work as original work or building upon previously submitted work for a new assignment, doctoral qualifying paper, or culminating activity (comprehensive exam, master's project, master's thesis, or doctoral dissertation) without the consent of the current instructor, program, or supervisor of the culminating activity. The College of Education acknowledges that many assignments and projects are developmental in nature and that building upon prior work may be allowed or encouraged by faculty, programs, and supervisors in certain cases. Re-submission of previously submitted work as original or building upon previously submitted work without the approval of the instructor, program, or supervisor of the course or culminating activity constitutes self-plagiarism and will be addressed according to the process outlined in Academic Senate Policy 21-01 and the College of Education Graduate Programs Policy on Academic Integrity.

Cheating, Plagiarism or Self-Plagiarism in Coursework

When a faculty member suspects a student of cheating, plagiarism, or self-plagiarism, the faculty member has a recommended sequence of actions to take as outlined in Academic Senate Policy 21-01. College of Education graduate program coordinators agree that minimally the faculty member will:

1. Thoroughly investigate the work in question, including careful examination of any plagiarism detection/originality analysis reports (e.g., TurnItIn.com).
2. Within 30 days of the alleged incident, arrange a conference with the student to notify the student of the charge and supporting evidence and discuss the issue to gain an understanding of the student's intent and explanation. Inform the student in writing about PS 21-01 and the College of Education Graduate Programs Policy on Academic Integrity. As a result of the conference and depending on the intentionality of the violation, the faculty member may suggest skill development and referral to writing coaches, on-line resources, and/or the APA manual.
3. If cheating, plagiarism, or self-plagiarism has occurred a faculty member may:
   a. Pursue additional actions, as outlined in Academic Senate Policy 21-01 (5.6.1).
   b. After consultation with the department chair and Associate Dean for Faculty Development, Research and Graduate Studies, dismiss the student from the program for academic integrity violations, particularly in egregious cases or when multiple offenses have occurred.
   c. Complete the online Academic Integrity form and submit it to the Office of Student Conduct and Ethical Development for possible university intervention and/or disciplinary action. Completing a form is encouraged in all cases to provide documentation of the academic integrity violation.

Cheating, Plagiarism, or Self-Plagiarism in Doctoral Qualifying Papers and Master's/Doctoral Culminating Activities

Doctoral qualifying papers and master's/doctoral culminating activities (comprehensive exams, master's theses, master's projects, doctoral dissertations) represent the highest level of graduate work and are outside the confines of a specific class and the purview of a single faculty member.

1. Doctoral qualifying papers and culminating activities, including comprehensive exams; master's projects; master's theses; master's project, master's thesis, and doctoral dissertation proposals; and doctoral dissertations may be submitted to a digital submission platform to be examined by plagiarism detection/originality analysis software.

2. If a plagiarism detection report suggests that plagiarism or self-plagiarism is evident or if cheating is alleged, the appropriate program coordinator or administrator will notify the department chair and, if applicable, the appropriate supervising faculty member.

3. The appropriate supervising faculty member and/or department chair will conduct a thorough investigation of the documents and/or details related to alleged incident(s) of cheat, plagiarism, or self-plagiarism. If the faculty member/department chair finds that there is sufficient evidence to indicate cheating, plagiarism, or self-plagiarism, a conference will occur with the student within 30 days of the incident to discuss the concern. Prior to the conference, the student will be informed in writing about PS 21-01 and the College of Education Graduate Programs Policy on Academic Integrity. During the conference, the student will be notified of the charge and supporting evidence. At the conclusion of that meeting, the faculty member/department chair will make a determination as to whether cheating, plagiarism, or self-plagiarism. The Associate Dean for Faculty Development, Research and Graduate Studies will be notified of any instances in which cheating, plagiarism, or self-plagiarism have occurred in a doctoral qualifying paper or master's/doctoral culminating activity.

When cheating, plagiarism, or self-plagiarism has occurred in a qualifying paper or doctoral/master's culminating activity, the faculty member/department chair follows the guidelines below.

1. Comprehensive Exams: student fails the entire exam and is referred to the Office of Student Conduct and Ethical Development via the online Academic Integrity form for university disciplinary action.

2. Qualifying Papers: student fails the exam and is referred to the Office of Student Conduct and Ethical Development via the online Academic Integrity form for university disciplinary action.

3. Master's Project, Master's Thesis or Doctoral Dissertation Proposal: student fails the proposal defense (as appropriate) and is referred to the Office of Student Conduct and Ethical Development via the online Academic Integrity form for university disciplinary action.

4. Master's Project, Master's Thesis or Doctoral Dissertation: student fails the project, thesis or dissertation and is referred to the Office of Student Conduct and Ethical Development via the online Academic Integrity form for university disciplinary action.

After meeting with the student in a case of cheating, plagiarism, or self-plagiarism in doctoral qualifying papers or master's/doctoral culminating activities, program faculty, department chairs, and/or the Associate Dean may determine that the student should be dismissed from the program, regardless of potential university disciplinary action.

If the student is not dismissed from the program, he or she will be placed on Administrative Academic Probation via the College of Education. The Administrative Academic Probation letter will outline specific actions and expectations that need to be completed in order to satisfactorily complete the program.

If, at any time while on Administrative Academic Probation related to cheating, plagiarism, or self-plagiarism in a doctoral qualifying paper or master's/doctoral culminating activity, a subsequent violation occurs, action will be taken as outlined in the standing Administrative Academic Probation letter. Typically, a subsequent violation will result in dismissal from the program by the College of Education.
