

DROPS AND WITHDRAWALS AT CSULB VIA MYCSULB SPRING 2024

Using Academics guides students through self-service schedule adjustments options available in MyCSULB during the first three* weeks of class. Classes dropped during this time will not appear on students' permanent records.

Note: Students who do not attend class or stop attending class are responsible to initiate a drop or withdrawal by the deadline. Do not assume the university or the instructor will remove you from a class.

After the first three* weeks of class in Spring 2024, students may initiate withdrawals from class through MyCSULB. Instructions are located under the Request to Withdraw tab at Using Academics.

Important: Students should consider the consequences of a withdrawal from class and consult their academic advisor. Withdrawals can impact progress towards degree, future course enrollment, and financial aid eligibility.

Withdrawals are subject to CSULB's Undergraduate Withdrawal Limit (18 units over the course of their entire CSULB undergraduate career) and are permissible only for a serious and compelling reason.

The conditions* under which students may drop/withdraw from classes are stated in University Policy Statement 22-01. The most current information on CSULB drops and withdrawals is available at Using Academics.

Note About Spring 2024

For the Spring 2024 Semester, the drop-without-penalty date has been extended one week to Sunday, 2/11/24 @ 11:59 pm. PS 22-01 states that during the "first two weeks" students may self-adjust their classes without penalty. Also, during this time, instructors may drop students who have not attended. Due to the extenuating circumstances of the labor stoppage, self-adjustment has been extended to the third week of the semester.
